● If you're after a unique sleep experience, try this! LOMME – Light Over Matter Mind Evolution – is a sleep system and rejuvenation environment. It was created after two years' research into sleep habits, problems and therapies. Using light, sound and massage therapies, Lomme uses an environment that enhances all the senses. The user can choose the strength and colour of the internal light with a colour wheel. The bed blocks external noise and an iPod has been installed. The mattress is available with an inbuilt massage system with a choice of options. There is even a system which blocks electromagnetic waves and radiation, while all of the Lomme functions are controlled by an iPhone. Intrigued? It will set you back £33,000!

● The leaf swing is a suspended seat for adults inspired by the falling of the leaves in autumn. The swing should be placed in outdoor spaces where the sunset glints through its leaf holes to create shadows. The slow rocking movement will encourage you to relax at the end of the day. Priced £500, the swing is made from fibreglass and carbon fibre with nylon rope. Other materials and colours available to order

● This beautiful Starfire chandelier, designed by James Lethbridge, is inspired by the visual study of a celestial phenomenon. With more than 300 individually handmade pieces, it takes nearly two months to complete. When lit, it sparkles and dances with light. It has been exhibited at the British Glass Biennale in Stourbridge and is available for £5,500
